Faces Trial In Paris

Head Of Mutiny In Custody After Revolt Collapses

ALGIERS (AP) — Forces loyal to President Charles de Gaulle crushed the four-day army revolt today with hardly a shot. The man who led the insurrection, Gen. Maurice Challe, surrendered to face trial and possibly a death sentence.

Three other retired generals who joined in leading the mutiny — Raoul Salan, Edmond Jouhad and Andre Zeller — were not accounted for. One unconfirmed report put them at a Foreign Legion camp at Zareida, 25 miles from Algiers.

The French Ministry of Information said Challe landed at a field near Paris. He will be brought to trial on charges of organizing an insurrection and usurping power. Similar charges have been placed against the three other generals and three colonels.

The government has not disclosed whether Challe will be tried as a soldier or as a civilian. On that issue could depend whether he faces a firing squad or the guillotine — although the possibility of a death sentence was largely discounted in Paris.

The uprising ended with the bewildering abruptness with which it began Saturday.

Thousands of Europeans gathered in the center of Algiers as rumors swept the city that loyal soldiers were preparing an attack. But the mutinous generals could give little encouragement to the French settlers, who had hoped De Gaulle's plan of self-determination for Algeria was doomed by the insurrection.

The generals attempted to speak to the crowd but found the microphones were dead. They then boarded trucks guarded by paratroopers and fled the city.

Gendarmes and loyal soldiers took control of the city and threw up roadblocks.

Sporadic shooting broke out but after daylight life in Algiers steadily returned to normal. Stores and shops opened and buses were on schedule.

In Paris, Information Minister Louis Terrenoire said a plane from Algeria had landed at British Gibraltar with certain "accomplices" of Challe but he did not know their names.

Utility User Mentioned In Formula Tiff

Ohio House Group Airing 2 Bills On Rate-Making Law

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The utility customer—the Ohioan who pays the bills for electricity, natural gas or telephone service—is being mentioned frequently as the fight over the state's utilities rate-making law resumes.

Hearings opened Tuesday night before the House Elections and Federal Relations Committee. The committee has two bills to consider.

One, sponsored by Rep. Richard M. Christiansen, D - Richland, would do away with the present "reconstruction cost new—less depreciation" formula for determining the value of a utility company's investment. Instead, it would base rates on actual, original cost of a company's facilities, a formula said by Christiansen to be similar to the one used by the Federal Power Commission.

The other, on which testimony was received Tuesday night, would include the actual cost factor with reconstruction cost new (RCN), so that the three-member Utilities Commission would use both in evaluating a company's investment.

Nine witnesses testified, and Ralph S. Locher, Cleveland's law director, was one of the first to mention the utility customer. Speaking — like all the others — in favor of the second bill, Locher said:

"This is an important subject, because it touches everyone's pocketbook, and not lightly either. Most of us pay more for our telephone, gas and electricity than the real estate taxes to operate our schools and municipal and county governments."

Locher said Ohio is the only state to use RCN as the sole basis for evaluating utility property. And, he asserted,

Speeder, 20, Nabbed With 24-Year-Old Car

A Gardendale youth, 20, pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court on a charge of speeding in a 24-year-old car.

Henry J. Davis, 305 Gardendale Ave., was given a 30-day suspension of his operator's permit by Judge Samuel M. Chertoff after he admitted driving 45 miles an hour in a 25-mile zone on St. Clair Ave. in his 1937 model auto. But the motor's a 1952 model, he told the judge. Davis was arrested at 8:24 p. m. Tuesday.

Meanwhile, Kenneth R. Ice, 843 Valley Ave., was fined $10 and costs when he pleaded guilty to making an improper turn at Boyce St. and Park Way at 8 a. m. today.

Tshombe Put Under Arrest By Soldiers

Katanga President Skipped Talk With Anti-Red Leaders

COQUILHATVILLE, the Congo (AP)—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga was arrested here today by soldiers of the Congolese central government as he was on his way to his plane to leave Coquilhatville for home.

Tshombe had walked out on a conference Tuesday of anti-Communist Congolese leaders in this capital of Equator Province, charging President Joseph Kasavubu of the central government had sold out to the United Nations.

Today 20 Congolese soldiers surrounded Tshombe's party in the Coquilhatville terminal building. A Leopoldville security officer prevented all civilians from entering the building and ordered passengers waiting at the airport to return to town.

Small groups of soldiers were stopping all cars and rounding up Congolese and European members of Tshombe's party.

Tshombe, his foreign minister, Evariste Kimba, and two other civilians were surrounded by soldiers when they started to leave the terminal building to board their plane.

Others in the Tshombe motorcade were turned back from the airport.

The conference that Tshombe left was a meeting of all Congo factions except that headed by Antoine Gizenga.

Tshombe's chief complaint was an agreement Kasavubu reached with the U.N. Command calling for immediate withdrawal from the Congo of all foreign advisers not under the central government's authority.

Belgian advisers are prominent in Katanga's government and Belgian and other white mercenaries serve in Tshombe's Katanga army.

Last month Tshombe and the Congo's other anti-Communist leaders agreed in principle to a confederation of Congolese states. But Tshombe's walkout appeared to doom such a confederation.

Living Costs Reported Unchanged In March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs were unchanged in March from the record high in February.

The government reported today that its index stayed at 127.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is 1.4 per cent above a year earlier.

Prices on some consumer items were higher in March than in February, but others were lower. The changes canceled out each other to leave the index unchanged.

Wellsville Has 5 Out For Mayor

3 Democrats And 2 Republicans Bid In Tuesday's Primary

Campaign activities have been stepped up by candidates for Tuesday's primary election at Wellsville, where three Democrats and two Republicans are seeking the mayoralty nominations of their parties.

Both parties also have contests for the First Ward and Council-at-large seats. The Democrats have a contest in the Third Ward, but do not have a candidate for solicitor.

The Republican aspirants for the top post are Wayne J. Rose, 1513 Lincoln Ave., and Thomas F. (Tom) Grafton, 1720 Buckeye Ave., both newcomers to politics.

Rose is an employee of the Sterling China Co. He has been active in many civic groups and in sports. He is the charter president of the Wellsville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Grafton, owner of Grafton Motor Sales, is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce and has been active in several civic groups and clubs. Mayor William J. Shoub, a Republican, declined to run again. He is serving his fourth consecutive term.

The Democratic candidates are Councilman Donald Miller, 496 14th St.; Clifford Fultz, 1717 Clark Ave., owner of the Blue Top Restaurant on Route 30, and William Daugherty, 973 Main St., manager of an insurance firm.

Miller, chairman of the City Council finance committee, is serving his first full term as Third Ward councilman. He is an inspector at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. and is active in Masonic Lodges.

Fultz won the mayoralty nomination in the 1959 primaries but was defeated at the general election. He was city party chairman but temporarily stepped aside when he entered the race.

Daugherty also is active in various civic organizations and is a past post, county and division commander of the American Legion. He is treasurer of the Fraternal Order of Police Associates.

Mrs. Mary C. Rahter, incumbent and owner of the Rahter Wallpaper Store, 711 Main St., is unopposed on the Democrat ticket for Council president, while J. Frederick Russell, 957 Main St., a

Storm Skirts City District

River Starts Rising Following Showers

A widespread storm caused some damage in the Tri-State area Tuesday night but this district got by with only heavy rain and gusty winds.

An area between Wheeling and Pittsburgh was buffeted by high winds and rains of near cloud burst proportions last night.

Dam 7 at Midland said the Ohio River was rising rapidly this morning after the torrential rains on the head waters and on the Beaver River.

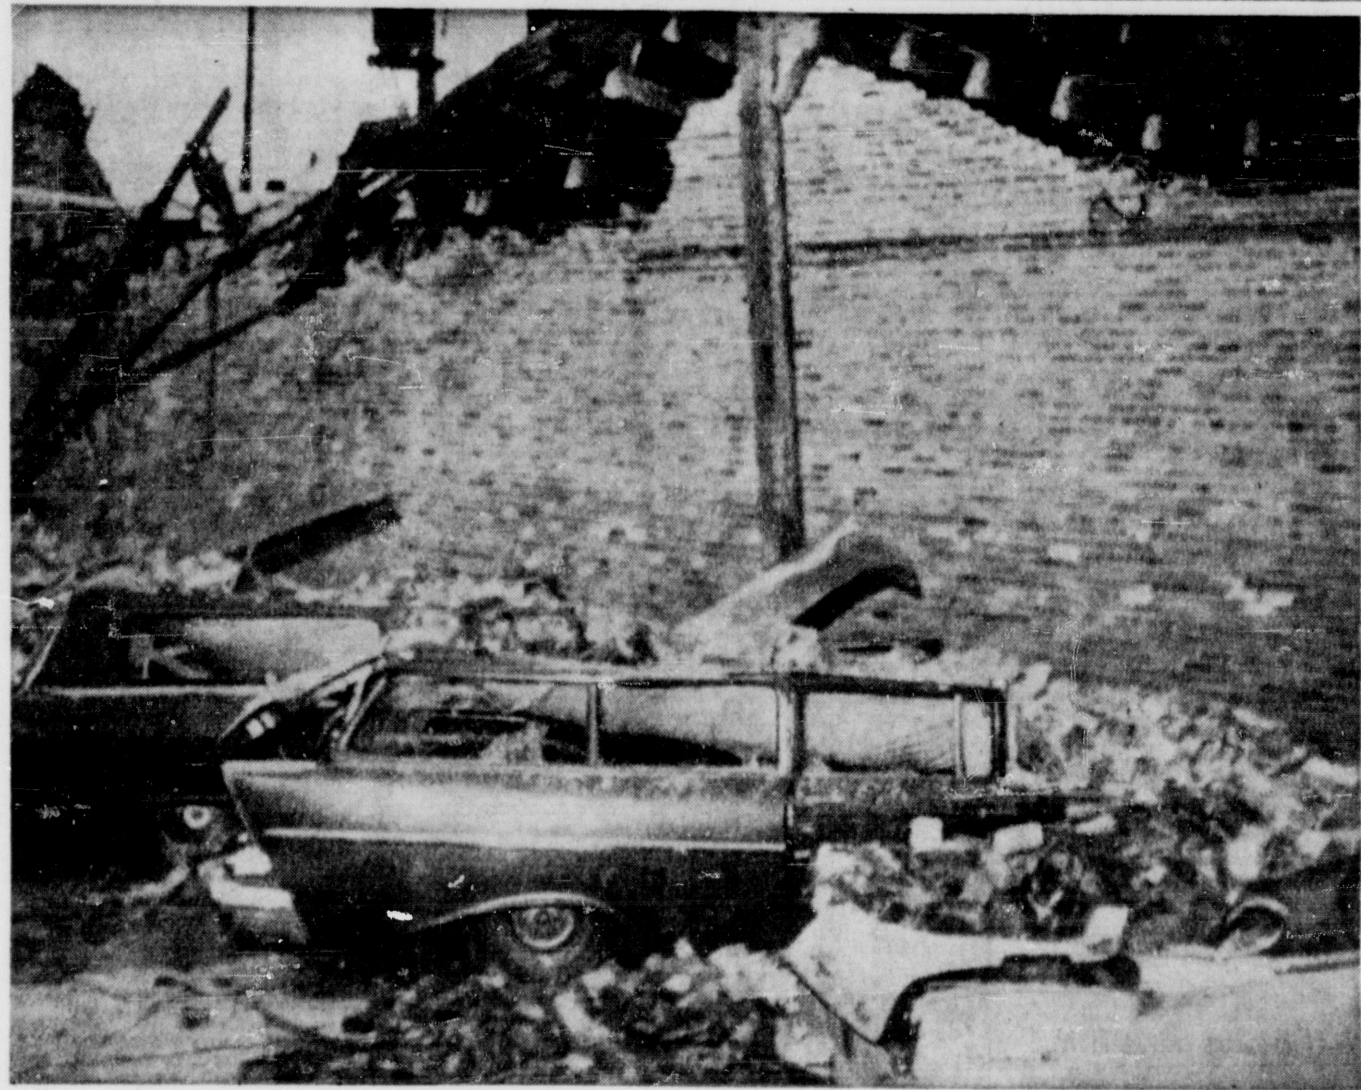

The area got 0.85 inch of rain from the almost steady showers that lasted 12 hours, starting about 6 a. m. yesterday.

The dam said the stream hit 25.2 feet at 8 a. m. after a 3-foot rise since midnight. It continued to rise four to five-tenths of a foot an hour this morning and had reached 26.5 at 11 a. m.

Dam attendants said the crest may be reached tomorrow morning with another foot or so.

A U. S. Weather Department advisory issued late yesterday afternoon warned of possible tor-

Salineville Victim In 'Fair' Condition After Rt. 30 Wreck

A 17-year-old Salineville youth was injured when his station wagon skidded on a rain-slicked section of Route 30 near West Point late Tuesday afternoon, struck guardrails and overturned.

Jack Baker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Baker, 66 E. Main St., Salineville, is in "fair" condition today at Salem Central Clinic with possible fractured ribs and concussion. His father is executive head of Southern Local Schools.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Baker, headed north at a moderate rate of speed, apparently lost control on the slippery

Appeal Court Rules Pay For 4 Democrats

A petition for a writ of mandamus to compel Columbiana County commissioners to certify pay for four Democratic-appointed Courthouse employees has been affirmed by the 7th District Court of Appeals.

The suit on behalf of four women employees, claiming Civil Service status prevented their "release" by the Republican-controlled commissioners, was filed in March with the appellate court at Youngstown.

Officials at the courthouse said today the actual order may arrive in two or three days. Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said he will appeal to the Supreme Court in an effort to reverse the ruling.

Pay for the four Democrats was not authorized by the commissioners, although the women had continued for some weeks to report for duty.

Four Republican appointees have not received any pay either, because the Ohio Department of Personnel has refused to certify them on the pay roll submitted by the commissioners.

Action on the mandamus may be delayed because of a petition for a mandamus Prosecutor William Brokaw has filed to be argued May 3 before the Ohio Supreme Court to force the Ohio Department of Personnel certify pay for Mrs. Edna Helman, one of the GOP employees.

United States is trying to convince them through diplomatic consultation that Cuba as a Communist base is a threat to the entire Western Hemisphere.

They include:

Naval blockade—In Kennedy's view this would be an act of war and probably not a very effective move since a blockade is aimed at strangling a nation slowly.

Economic embargo—A partial embargo already is in effect. The greatest single diplomatic disadvantage of a total embargo is that it would subject the United States to propaganda charges of starving the Cuban people. Cubans still can buy foodstuffs and medicines from the United States.

Despite Cease-Fire Plan

U.S. Steps Up Laos Arms Aid As Pro-Reds Push New Drive

Situation Described As 'Grave'

6 American C130 Transports Speed In More Supplies

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — The United States stepped up its airlift of arms and supplies to pro-Western Laotian government troops today as pro-Communist rebels reportedly launched fresh attacks despite agreement to negotiate a cease-fire.

A government communique said the situation was "grave with enemy attacks on all fronts."

Six huge American C130 turbo-prop transports were rushing more supplies here from the Philippines in a new airlift labeled "Operation Hot Shot."

Informed sources said two dozen service personnel were flown in Tuesday to handle the transports, which carry four times the load of the chartered C46s that have been ferrying U.S. aid to the pro-Western army.

Western sources in Vientiane doubt that a cease-fire can be arranged and a coalition Laotian government formed before the May 12 target date for the opening of the Geneva conference to shape the Southeast Asian kingdom's future.

The three-nation commission assigned to supervise the truce—India, Canada and Poland—is to hold its first meeting in New Delhi Friday.

The British, who with the Soviets are making the arrangements for the Geneva talks, say no Laotian delegation will be seated until the country's warring factions reach an agreement on a government acceptable to all sides. The United States says it will not attend the conference until a cease-fire is operating.

Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist Laotian leader in self-imposed exile, is challenging pro-Western Premier Boum Oum for the government leadership. Souvanna Phouma, backed by the Communist bloc, called himself premier in a statement Tuesday welcoming the joint British-Soviet cease-fire proposal.

2 At Newell Receive Fines

Tavern Operator, Bartender Cited

The licensee and a bartender of a Newell tavern were fined $100 and costs each today by Squire John D. Herron on charges of selling beer to minors and contributing to the delinquency of three.

Laura A. Colvin of Newell, licensee of the Potters Inn, 529 Harrison St., was charged with sale of non-intoxicating beer to three teen-aged boys, while Carl Beagle, 39, of 426 Maryland Ave., East Liverpool, bartender, was charged with contributing to their delinquency.

The pair was cited Tuesday afternoon by Hancock County sheriff's deputies, who continued to inspect Hancock County taverns for violations of state laws. Deputies arrested two at the Clover Club on State Route 2 early Sunday for possession of alcoholic liquor and after-hour sale.

Both the woman and Beagle pleaded guilty to the charges, the squire said at New Cumberland.

Meanwhile, Edward Linger, 26, of Georgetown R. D. 1 was fined $100 and costs Tuesday afternoon and given 60 days in County Jail in New Cumberland on a charge of driving without an operator's license, and operating a vehicle with a 1959 license plate.

Linger previously was cited in Chester and Webster County on similar charges, the squire said. He was arrested Sunday by sheriff's deputies on Hardins Run Rd.

Men Nabbed In Maryland On Abduction

U.S. Charges May Face 2 Suspects In District Robbery

A 23-year-old Ohioan and a 27-year-old Chicagoan were nabbed early today at Hagerstown by Maryland State Police for the kidnap-robbery of a Newell man late Monday night in which the pair left him afoot on a rural road in Beaver County and then drove away in his auto.

In a teletype message relayed to the East Liverpool department, Sgt. Samuel C. Bowen of the Hagerstown detachment identified the suspects as: Constantinos Gimitris Psihogios, 23, of Sardis and Harry John Sennbrakis, 27, of Chicago.

Maryland officers said the two were apprehended after they drove away from a service station at Clear Springs, near Hagerstown, without paying for $3 worth of gas. They also had obtained a tankful of gas by the same ruse earlier in a Washington, Pa., service station.

Psihogios and Sennbrakis were taken into custody in a 1958 Edsel two-door sedan which they stole from James E. Graham, 229 Washington St., Newell. Graham related he picked up the two as hitchhikers late Monday night at E. 3rd St. and Broadway.

One of the men, later identified as Sennbrakis, pulled a revolver on Graham as the car crossed the Chester Bridge and ordered

2 Dead In Ohio Storm

Tornado Slashes Eaton; 3 Injured

By The Associated Press
 A tornadic spring storm roared out of Indiana Tuesday afternoon, slashed with a 20-foot-wide black funnel through Eaton, killed two people near Wilmington and within five hours left a debris-strewn path across southern Ohio.

During Mother Nature's blitz two persons were reported killed and one other hurt critically. All three were in Clinton County.

Killed were 12-year-old Ronald Morton and William Black, 41. Both were trying to lead animals to shelter in barns on their respective farms near Martinsville when the structures collapsed. William Rankin of Rt. 1, Martinsville, was injured critically when the roof of a house was pulled off and dropped on the car Rankin was sitting in.

The only reported tornado during the period was at Eaton. There the funnel carved out a five-mile-long path through residential and business districts and caused damage estimated as high as $1 million. Only three persons were reported injured, none seriously.

Mayor Glen Moysey Jr. declared the Preble County seat in a state of emergency and has asked the state for assistance. National Guardsmen were pressed into service, helping local authorities patrol the stricken area. They were released later.

At least 12 homes were leveled and dozens more heavily damaged. In the downtown area a supermarket was nearly destroyed, the roof of the city building was smashed and the police station damaged. Scores of other business establishments sustained damage.

About the same time a severe thunderstorm with winds clocked at up to 81 miles per hour buffeted Cincinnati.

A church steeple was toppled, windows were smashed and trees and power lines knocked down. Lightning hit several buildings.

As the storm moved eastward, heavy damage was reported in Clinton County, the Circleville

If Other Means Fail U.S. Eyes Possible Use Of Arms Force In Cuba

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
 WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is reported to be considering possible use of military force against the Castro regime in Cuba if other means eventually fail to put an end to the island's pro-Communist rule.

Employment of force as a last resort is said to be one of several plans under study here for dealing with the Cuban crisis. Others include the application of political and economic sanctions against Cuba through joint action with Latin American allies.

Some officials believe that as the situation develops following the unsuccessful rebel invasion last week, other American governments might ultimately be willing to participate even in military operations against Castro. The

In Unity There's Weakness

John Kennedy stood 10 feet high when he slapped down the people trying to blame the Cuban fiasco on the Eisenhower administration.

He bears full responsibility, he explained. He shares it with no one. If a mistake was made, he made it. That's president-type talk—full-size.

It will singe some of the fuzz off the fuzzy thinking and talking that have followed disappointment about the abortive attempt to topple Castro with a pogon.

The idea was conceived during the Eisenhower administration, and obviously conceived badly because it turned out disastrously. A lot of people must have goofed. But Eisenhower wasn't commander-in-chief, president and top man in foreign relations when the order was given to go ahead. Kennedy was the man on the spot. He knew what was involved. If he didn't, he is the one who goofed and his will be the historic responsibility.

IT TAKES a man with courage to face the music when so many people are shooting off their bazoos and that's why the young president looms large right now.

Everybody else should put his mind to looming large as long as this seems to be turning into one of those times that try men's souls.

Take the matter of national unity. Look out when the bazoo-shooters yammer about national unity, because what they mean is, you quit criticizing me and I'll keep right on letting the air out of your tires.

In unity there's weakness in a country that believes in two-party government. They have unity in the Soviet Union, and someday they'll get stuck with it the way the Germans got stuck with it under Hitler and the Russians got stuck with it under Joe Stalin.

We don't need to be told to love America when the going gets rough and most particularly we don't need to be told by the kind of people who can think of nothing to do at such times but jump up on the piano and scream, "Unity!" Or take the matter of poise.

WE HAVE no use for rattlebox patriots who act as if a setback to a few hundred Cuban patriots trying to start something against Castro was the forerunner to Armageddon.

It was a dumb thing to let happen, granted. If they were going to take a potshot at Castro, they should have used an elephant gun. What was worth doing was worth doing well.

But no military endeavor in history was more fouled up than the war in which the United States finally tied the can on Spain and drove it out of the New World.

No military endeavor ever got off to a slower start than Castro's revolution against Batista; his chances weren't worth a dime at the beginning.

Americans have been kidding themselves about keeping Russian, Chinese, Czech and other varieties of Communists out of Cuba without fighting. They have had the happy thought of letting a couple other guys fight while they held their coats.

IT CAN'T be done that way. It would be too easy. If it's going to be done at all, it will have to be done the hard way.

What would happen if President Kennedy gave the order to do it the hard way, with an elephant gun big enough to topple Castro and his Communist conquistadores?

How long would it be until Moscow was talking about a cease-fire—and for the same reason Washington is talking about one in Laos—because it's too far away to put up a fight for on even terms?

Now that the young president has stood 10 feet tall, he may have to stand even taller by taking personal responsibility for going to the brink of war and putting one foot over the edge.

Make It A Good One

Robert F. Kennedy has drawn the first of the tough assignments he was expected to draw from his brother, the President, when his appointment to the Cabinet was announced. He will investigate the Central Intelligence Agency.

As attorney general of the United States, heading the Department of Justice, he has some valuable precedents to look at in his own department. The Federal Bureau of Investigation bears the same relation to domestic affairs that CIA bears to foreign affairs, with two important differences.

The FBI and the CIA both are investigative agencies. The first difference is that CIA investigates anything and everything in its field at its discretion, but the FBI investigates only when it is directed to investigate by the agencies it serves. The second difference is that the FBI is limited to investigation but CIA goes beyond investigating into quasi-policy functions; at least it seemed to have gone beyond investigation in the Cuban affair. It seems to have been directing the efforts to set off an overthrow of the Castro government.

If Attorney General Kennedy is going to make an investigation, he should make it a good one. CIA is an essential arm of the government. It is a grossly misunderstood arm of the government. Perhaps it is an abused arm of the government. Perhaps it is being asked to do more than it reasonably can be expected to do.

That was one of the impressions after CIA was criticized for not predicting that Communist-inspired student riots would break out in Japan just before the visit planned last summer by President Eisenhower.

How could CIA be expected to know about the newest military revolt against the government of France in Algeria when Gen. de Gaulle, himself, has admitted he was surprised? What happened to the intelligence agency of the French republic?

As to Cuba, on the other hand, how could CIA keep from knowing, if it knew anything at all, that Russian tanks and planes were ready for action in Cuba? How could it keep from knowing that a popular uprising in a military dictatorship is about as likely as a mass conversion to religion in an army camp?

The question is whether CIA is to be blamed for these things? If there's going to be an investigation, it should be good enough to establish once and for all what CIA is responsible for doing and should be blamed for if failures occur. Its responsibilities should be as clearly defined and as clearly respected as those of the FBI.

Golden Opportunity

Those who reside on streets that are in bad shape — and there are comparatively few who don't — should give serious consideration to the cooperative residential paving program outlined by City Council.

The plan offers an opportunity for improved streets at a cost to the individual which could be termed most reasonable.

Street repairs, to our way of thinking, rank at the top of the list of the things that should be accomplished with revenue from the city income tax. The tax would bear 50 per cent of the cost under the Council proposal.

While it is possible in rare instances hardship cases might occur under the petitioning plan, over all it seems a sensible way to get moving on repairs that need to be done.

There will be no blackjacking of property owners. Before any petition is presented those directly involved will have the cost clearly outlined, including the manner of payment.

If your street needs repairs, get together with your neighbors, talk the thing over and then go to Council for information on cost and procedure.

By H. I. Phillips

Union Disputes Hurt Missile Output

By Victor Riesel

There's a civil war which should never be marked by a centennial. That's the war between the unions. And the nearer you wander toward our new inter-continental ballistic missile bases the louder — and more senseless — does the battle loom. And the more apparent it becomes that the biggest union of all, the United States, is right in the middle.

Victor Riesel

Over at Lowry missile site near Denver, for example, the understandably secretive missile-making Martin Co. asked one man to tend to some work on the new installation. He walked on the field. Thousands walked off. Strike. Stoppage. Pickets. Why?

That was on Tuesday, April 18, and for a week the Pentagon, the Mediation Service and Sen. McClellan's ace investigators under Jerry Adlerman tried to discover why. In general they knew. Specifically, not all these intelligent people could get an answer from the strike leaders.

EVERYBODY consulted with everybody else. The only word they could use that would fit the explanations was "fuzzy." This much we all knew:

Lowry Field, just as some 20 other bases, has been hard hit by stoppages. There, near Denver, the strikes have been called by members of the Northern Colorado Building and Construction Trades Council. These walkouts cost the field at least 15,000 man days in the past 17 months. There were some 20 strikes in the last 10 months, according to the authorities. But the base, with its effective killer Titans, has been practically finished. With heavy overtime pay, of course.

This meant that the construction work virtually is done. This also meant that the Martin Co., which has the responsibility of keeping the missiles in fighting condition could move in after the "brick and mortar" work is polished off.

Part of the brick and mortar operation — keep in mind—is a complex power house on the field. What it controls, they tell me, is better kept classified. So let it go at that.

When the Martin Co. began moving into Lowry Air Force base it sent in a few of its men. Since the firm has a contract with the United Automobile Workers, a few UAW men showed on the field.

SUDDENLY on April 5 there was a flash strike by the International Union of Operating Engineers. This pulled 450 men off the job. No one really knew why. The experts simply said there was general unrest because the few UAW men were looking in on the power house and the "nests" for the Titans.

The Operating Engineers are members of the Northern Colorado Building and Construction Trades Council. A partner in this council is the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

On April 18, this brotherhood suddenly called a strike. It had noticed that a lone UAW man had come into the "construction" area. The chap had been assigned. It was the only thing the Martin Co. could do.

This one man was a technician who just had to look at some of the wiring. But the Electrical Brotherhood would have nothing of it. Its partners in the Building and Construction Council had earlier canceled their no-strike pact with the Martin Co. during the week of April 10th. Now any one of the Council's unions could walk out.

So the regional union leaders called out 700 electrical workers to protect the approach of the one man from a union outside its own council. They wanted no one moving into their jurisdiction.

SOON 4,000 other workers, members of some 18 building and construction unions, quit work, too. Then word was flashed to the Warren missile base near Cheyenne, Wyo. Work slowed there, too.

This is the story of many a missile base. The fight is between the craft unions such as the electrical workers and the big industrial type unions such as the auto workers and the machinists.

Recently the stoppages have increased from one every four days to one every two days. This, despite the national no-strike pledge taken by the parent Building and Construction Trades Council in Miami Beach last February. The national leaders dispatched notice of the pledge. But many of the regional chiefs just ignored it and did not even call local meetings to pass word on to their members.

The little barons say they're going to fight for the job security of their people. To the public it makes no difference what union man does the work, so long as it's done.

The issue is the security of all the people in the one big union, the United States especially at this moment.

Is there no appeal to reason?

An 'Authoritative Source'

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

So many key men in the Kennedy administration got under the cloak of anonymity these past few days it looked like a tent.

But it makes you punchy when an authoritative source, who won't let his name be used, is contradicted by a high official who can't be named.

It started late last week when reporters began asking why the Cuban invasion failed so miserably.

They talked to one of the most important men around Kennedy. But he didn't want to be identified. So an "authoritative source" was quoted as saying:

1. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon encouraged President Kennedy to go ahead with plans for the invasion.

2. United States intelligence was faulty in its reports on how much armament Fidel Castro had and the likelihood of a hoped-for Cuban uprising.

Pretty soon Andrew Hatcher, Kennedy's assistant press secretary, issued a statement which denied part, but not all, of what the "authoritative source" had said.

Hatcher denied Kennedy and Eisenhower had discussed the invasion before the inauguration. But he didn't deny U.S. intelligence fell on its face.

Unresolved Policy

By David Lawrence

U.S. Responsibilities In Cuba Uncertain

What is needed in Washington is a compass to steer by. International relations nowadays bob around on turbulent seas. The pious words of Khrushchev, with their blatant hypocrisies, are spread around the world. Inside the United States — indeed, inside the Americas as a whole — there still is doubt, skepticism and uncertainty over the policy of the United States toward Cuba.

While President Kennedy's words in his speech last week are in line with historic policy, the question of how to implement those words has yet to be answered. What shall be done?

The United States in this controversy has a fundamental principle to stand on — it must keep the Communists out of Cuba and Latin America. Enough evidence is at hand to show that the Soviets already have sent munitions of war, planes and tanks into Cuba. The United States is in duty bound to seize such equipment and confiscate it. Otherwise, the Monroe Doctrine becomes meaningless.

The justification for such a step is to be found not only in this doctrine — which now has been embraced by the Organization of American States — but in basic international law. American lives and property have been endangered.

It is up to the United States to furnish protection not only for the lives of its own citizens but for those of other foreign citizens. The United States has long been acting as the trustee in this hemisphere of European nationals as well as Americans.

Wouldn't this be "intervention"? Not as between domestic factions, but only as between the United States and the Soviet Union, which has already intervened in the internal affairs of Cuba. The United States itself seeks no authority over the internal affairs of Cuba — it's up to the Cubans to set up their own government and to hold free elections.

Supposing, however, resistance is encountered? The United States has a right under international law to use military force to suppress any opposition to its seizure of ports, homes or buildings where Americans and their assets are sequestered.

THE ARGUMENT is made that this will hurt to some extent the prestige of the United States in Latin America and elsewhere. It can also be noted that, unless the United States fulfills its obligations under international law, it will forfeit all its prestige. No government ever lost prestige by fighting for its lawful rights.

The United States, therefore, cannot stand merely on the unstable premise that it will encourage revolutionaries engaged in a worthy cause. Aid to revolutionary movements is an age-old custom, but the United States cannot rely on a band of hastily organized revolutionaries to make its own rights secure.

For many years Congress was reluctant to give up the "Platt Amendment" whereby the Cuban government in a treaty, signed in 1903 — five years after the Spanish-American War — had agreed to permit automatic entrance of the forces of the United States if Cuban independence were threatened.

This was abandoned in 1934 by the Franklin D. Roosevelt administration when it was believed that Cuba was immune from outside interference. Another step must be taken now in line with the spirit of the "Platt Amendment" to recover the territory of Cuba for the Cubans.

SUCH A POLICY — open and aboveboard — is more in keeping with American tradition than clandestine support of revolutionaries who, incidentally, can also be infiltrated by Soviet stooges.

Only a few months ago the United States, under President Eisenhower, undertook an air and sea blockade along the Guatemalan coast to prevent Communist landings.

Active protection of American lives and properties in Cuba means an air and sea blockade of all Cuban ports and airfields. But it also means cleaning out Havana and other places in Cuba and deporting all Communist agents and military men, among them the Czech fliers and Red Chinese helpers.

Eliminating Communist influence from Cuba would be a lesson to other countries in Latin America, where already several have been launched, including last week an attack on American newspapermen's offices in Caracas, Venezuela, and the destruction of their property.

The theory that the United States can imitate the Soviet Union in guerrilla tactics has been given some support in official circles but, while help of that kind could be extended to liberation movements, the fact remains that this country cannot depend on any military force except its own to protect the lives and properties of Americans and other foreigners in revolution-torn Cuba.

THE CHARTER of the United Nations, moreover, under Articles 51 and 52, gives to any member "the right of individual or collective self-defense." Hence, an action taken in Cuba by the United States alone in defense of the rights of its citizens is in accord with the basic principles of the U.N. Charter.

The only legal requirement is that the move be formally reported to the Security Council, which can later take steps of its own to restore peace — subject, of course, to a United States veto.

But No Caroline

By Truman Twill

The closest I have come to violence in Cuba was while legging it back to the hotel in Washington, D.C., last week after walking down to the White House to see Caroline.

Caroline wasn't in sight, or her mommy, either, but on my way home I was suddenly across the street from a rowdy-dow bunch of Cuban-type teenagers apparently on their way to the scene of another of the endless demonstrations that keep District of Columbia policemen on the jump.

Demonstrations were going big in Washington last week, as they were when Castro made his visit to Washington two years ago. He was the guest then of the American Society of Newspaper Editors, the same organization that was meeting in Washington last week.

Its willingness to listen to him tell his story was under criticism in 1959 and has been ever since. What has been forgotten by the critics is that in 1959 he was the revolutionary hero who had tied a can to Fulgencio Batista. Whether or not he might be a Communist was conjectural. What Batista had been as a fact; there was nothing conjectural about him. He had been a terrorist and the support he had been given by the United States because he was against communism was a scandal.

So there I was, practically in a demonstration. Matter of fact, a day later a newspaperman who may have been no closer to the scene than I was got himself booted to jail — just for being present. Maybe he looked Cuban.

Washington needs better facilities for people who want to stage demonstrations and carry signs and flags. They are working under a handicap that would discourage me if I were a demonstrator. There are so many policemen standing by that with pedestrians and auto traffic to get in the way the effect of their efforts is wasted.

I have in mind something like Rockefeller Center's ice rink, except its Washington counterpart would be a pit surrounded by a high wire fence flaring outward to make it impossible for anyone to throw anything over the top.

Low bleachers would surround this enclosure, so spectators could sit in comfort while demonstrations were staged. All signs could be read. All slogans and marching songs could be heard. The faces of the sloganers and picketers could be studied.

There would be no interference. Each bunch of people with a message would be admitted in turn through a door on one side of the arena and the preceding bunch ushered out through another door. All demonstrations would be in the enclosure — no exceptions. All other demonstrations would be broken up immediately.

These Cuban-type teenagers who were trying to get something started on the other side of the street would be lost with no policemen to jeer at. That would be part of my plan. Policemen would stay on the outside. There would be no symbol of authority to abuse — no tension while everybody waited to see if they battled the cops.

United For Freedom Theme For Midland July 4th Event

"United for Freedom" will be the theme for the annual July 4th celebration in Midland.

Further plans for the event were made at a meeting of the celebration's Executive Committee Tuesday evening in Council Chambers in the Borough Building. Burgess Eli Corak, general chairman, presided.

Charles P. Henderson, program chairman, was authorized to contact bands and special marching groups for the parade and entertainment for the afternoon and evening programs. The committee plans to obtain top drum and bugle corps, including the Pittsburgh Rockets, for an evening performance.

Tentative approval was given for prizes for adult and youth floats and humorous entries.

John Shovlin, Board of Education member, was appointed to the committee as business solicitation chairman in place of Rocco Ciancone, who resigned. Shovlin's committee includes Charles L. Finley, Chamber of Commerce president, and Ralph Bernabe.

O. N. Carter, finance chairman, reported the mill solicitation is progressing. Mrs. Malena Westlake, secretary, was asked to send letters to clubs and other organizations for financial aid.

Funds for the celebration are expected to be lower this year due to business and employment conditions and the committee has cut the more expensive acts, voting to keep traditional performers and events.

Next meeting is May 23.

Murderer In Beaver Gets 10-To-20-Years

BEAVER — Dan Tipkin, 53, of Aliquippa was sentenced to 10-20 years Tuesday by Judge Morgan Sohn after being found guilty of second degree murder in the shooting of Andrew Wright, 56, also of Aliquippa, on Christmas Day.

Tipkin had pleaded guilty to murder generally and Judge Sohn then heard testimony. The judge said the case had some aspects of first degree murder, but ruled Tipkin guilty of second degree because he was intoxicated when the shooting occurred.

School At Newell Will Sign Pupils

The annual pre-school registration and tea at the Newell Jefferson School will be held Friday afternoon from 3 to 4:30. Principal Ernest John announced today.

Parents of all children who will be 6 before Nov. 1 and who are planning to enroll in the Newell school next term are urged to attend, the principal said.

Registration will be held in Rooms 106 and 108. The Parent-Teacher Association will serve tea for parents and children.

"Both parents and children will be provided with an opportunity to meet the teachers, PTA officials, and inspect the building," Principal John said.

He added that parents of children in the second and third grades also are invited to attend to hear an explanation of the "ungraded primary" that will be initiated in the Hancock County system next year.

Mrs. Audrey Litman, curriculum co-ordinator for the elementary grades in the county, will discuss the "Primary Block."

Mayor To Study Liverpool Offer Of Old Lamppost

Would East Liverpool like to have one of the picturesque old lampposts that its "n a m e s a k e city," Liverpool England, took out of service when it installed new fixtures?

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet is pondering that offer today. It's one of a series made to other Liverpools all around the world by a British producer of beer and stout which has its headquarters in Liverpool, England.

The company said it recently donated one of the old lampposts to the city of Liverpool in New South Wales, Australia, in connection with a centenary celebration there.

The offer was made to Goodballet in a letter addressed to "His Worship, the Mayor." Signed by one of the firm's directors, the letter said in convoluted Queen's English: "Although we as a company are engaged in the hard commercial routine, whenever the opportunity is afforded us of departing from business, such occasions have always been grasped with enthusiasm and have resulted in a great deal of pleasantness at the time and of wonderful memories to look back upon."

Mayor Goodballet said he hopes the Britishers will throw a little more light on the lamppost gift before he decides whether to accept. First the letter did not make clear who would be expected to pay the shipping charges. Secondly, the mayor said he would not accept the lamppost if it contained any advertising for a foreign-made product.

However, Toledo, Ohio, has moved up from 6-9 per cent to 9-12 per cent, and Marion, Ohio, has been added to the 6 per cent or more unemployed category.

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP)—A labor dispute last September resulted Tuesday in four $250,000 damage suits against the Miami Cabinet Division of the Philip Carey Manufacturing Co. at Middletown.

James Prater and Jimmy Combs, all of Middletown, filed the suits in Butler County Common Pleas Court, charging they had been arrested for assault and battery in connection with a labor dispute at the plant. They contended Hicks and Combs were acquitted in Middletown Municipal Court and that the charges against Napier and Prater were dismissed.

Evidence Alleges At Trial

Eichmann Seen Obsessed With Job Of Killing Jews

By RELMAN MORIN

JERUSALEM (AP) — Adolf Eichmann was obsessed with his task of destroying Jews and drove himself furiously from country to country in pursuit of it, evidence introduced today in his trial alleged.

"Eichmann was always active. He couldn't rest. He traveled constantly. He said the 'final solution' must be decisive because nobody knows how the war will end."

These were the words of a former colleague of Eichmann, a man now dead.

They were written by Rudolf Hoess, wartime commander of the great extermination camp at Auschwitz. He was executed in Poland in 1947.

The prosecution succeeded today in putting Hoess' notes into the record. It also introduced as evidence further details about Eichmann from S.S. Maj. Dieter Wisliceny, one of his former aides. Wisliceny also was executed after World War II.

In other developments today—Arguments broke out over the question of bringing a living witness to the trial—Dr. William Hoettl, former S.S. major, now living in Austria. He is liable to prosecution under an Israeli law that makes membership in the S.S., and other such Nazi organizations, a criminal offense. The question arose as to whether he could be granted safe conduct in Israel.

Testimony in an affidavit indicated that the "final solution of the Jewish problem"—total extermination—might have been attempted in Palestine as well as Europe, if Germany had won the war. The affidavit, from Wisliceny, described a meeting between Eichmann and the grand mufti of Jerusalem, Haj Amin el Hussein.

The name of another potential living witness, former S.S. Lt. Col. Walter Huppenkothen, also came into the hearing. The prosecution offered an affidavit from him and Dr. Robert Servatius, chief defense attorney, objected on the ground that Huppenkothen is alive. While the argument continued, Eichmann passed a note to Servatius and the attorney said, "The accused just tells me that Huppenkothen is in West Germany."

Servatius won a hotly disputed point regarding a signed photograph of Eichmann. The prosecution had attempted to put it in evidence two days ago. Beside the signature are the words, "S.S. Lt. Col. Adolf Eichmann, retired." Attorney General Gideon Hausner told the court investigation showed the photograph was a copy of one that had appeared in a German pictorial weekly.

Slowly over repeated objections by the defense—and some sharp questioning by the three Israeli judges—Hausner went on filling in the picture of Eichmann through written testimony of his former associates, Wisliceny and Hoess.

Wisliceny listed five primary reasons for what he called Eichmann's "success" in killing millions of Jews.

1. He had the "full confidence" of his superiors, Gestapo chiefs Heinrich Himmler, Reinhard Heydrich and Gen. Heinrich Mueller.
2. He had the power to overrule German authorities in localities where the Jews were rounded up for deportation.
3. He was not hampered by the German Foreign Office. The affidavit said "the Foreign Office always obeyed."
4. The Nazi Transport Ministry always gave Eichmann priority in providing trains.
5. Aides of Eichmann were trained to obey his orders "blindly."

Servatius, objecting to the Wisliceny document, asked the permission of the court to read 10 lines from the statement which Hausner had not read.

In these, Wisliceny wrote: "I am ready and I wish to take part in the search for Eichmann. I would know him in any disguise. I am convinced I could trace him in a few weeks. Therefore, I propose that I be attached to an American Army unit with the special task of tracking him down."

Servatius has argued before that there was bad blood between Eichmann and Wisliceny and that Wisliceny's assessment of Eichmann was made "to save his own skin."

The attorney asked the judges to take these arguments into consideration in evaluating Wisliceny's words.

Belgian Doctors Moved Out

Medical-Health Situation Poses Problem In Congo

Beyond the Congo's political troubles are enormous problems in such fundamental matters as health and education. John A. Kennedy, publisher and editor in chief of the Sioux Falls Argus-Leader, and Mrs. Kennedy just concluded a stay in the country which they visited before, in 1959. This is the first of a series about conditions they found on those trips.

By JOHN A. KENNEDY
LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP)—When the Belgians pulled out of the Congo last July, there was not a single medical doctor in this vast country.

And only 50 students are now in the new medical college at Louvain University here as the only pipeline to supply Congolese health supervision in the future.

This medical-health picture perhaps dramatically points up the problems of the Congo—and for that matter similar difficulties already present or certain to be encountered in the emerging African nations today.

Experts say the people just can't all go back to the sorcerers and witch doctors of the past—though these mysticists still prevail in a large part of the uncivilized areas of the bush and jungle.

On independence day, there were 761 Belgian doctors. After the uprisings, only 150 remained and those were mostly in the big cities—to care for 13,000,000 Congolese and 4,000,000 more in Belgian-administered Ruanaa and Urundi.

The departing medics took with them the technicians, X-ray and laboratory experts, leaving only a very few to help man the hospitals and dispensaries.

Under Belgian rule, according to Dr. M. Bellerive, senior U.N. medical consultant who had visited the Congo several times before as World Health Organization expert, medical care of Africans in hospitals and dispensaries had been perhaps the best and most complete of any nation in black Africa.

With the aid of hurriedly recruited Red Cross teams, the U.N. chief has been able only to partially reorganize the nation's health setup.

The Belgians fortunately had medical stores which they believed adequate for 1½ years in the event the Congo was cut off by another world war. The first six months since July drew heavily on this stock but Dr. Bellerive says they are not too desperate on this score at present.

"The big problem today," the WHO chief said, "is what can we do in the future because the Red Cross doctors are planning to leave in June?"

The United Nations already has sent 61 medical assistants to France who have been accepted at schools with the understanding that in addition to the three years in these institutions, the students at the same time will make up their deficiencies in the basic sciences.

By comparative training, they could rank between an interne and a graduate nurse.

If they do not pass the French medical exams—which are tough—they will be returned to the Congo as super medical assistants.

The first reports from five French universities are quite good. It is the hope of Dr. Bellerive to send 20 more medical assistants to school this year. The World Health Organization is picking up the tab. They also have worked out a full program for public health doctors with about 1,000 students.

Some Swiss medical schools also are training Africans but the small supply of medical assistants here are so badly needed to help to at least partially preserve the Congo's health that it will be difficult to let them leave the country.

Ohio Guardsmen Get Briefing On Mobility

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Some 300 top officers of the Ohio National Guard are getting a briefing this week on one of the Army's most emphasized points—mobility. A team of top officials from the Transportation Corps Research Command at Ft. Eustis, Va., is making a three-spot tour of Ohio to keep the citizen-soldiers briefed on latest transportation developments.

Tuesday night the team spoke to nearly 100 officers at the headquarters of the 37th Infantry Division here. Tonight the group will address members of the 112th Tactical Carrier Battalion in Middletown. Monday the team was in Cleveland.

City Couple Thanked For Interest In Dog

An East Liverpool couple had been thanked for the interest they expressed in a Rochester couple's white German shepherd dog, which was badly injured more than a year ago when hit by a car and later stolen for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Hill wrote to Mr. and Mrs. Richard S. Smith, 774 Dresden Ave., expressing their appreciation for the interest shown in "King" and enclosed color photos showing the dog with a complicated metal sprint and one following his recovery.

After surgery to repair the broken bones in a Youngstown veterinary hospital, "King" now is virtually fully recovered, the Hills said.

The 1960 Washington Senators, now the Minnesota Twins, lost 28 games by one run. In five of those games the score was 1-0.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Young Tyrant Frightens Mother

Many a bright child is a tyrant in the family because the parents are scared of him (or her). An Illinois mother of three daughters, 9, 6, and 11 months, writes of the middle child: "She is lovable, generous, very gentle with babies and younger children and has a tremendous personality. Everyone Dr. Garry Meyers knows her — store clerks, the mailman, etc.; her grandparents, the sitter who takes care of them when we go out, her teachers, etc. have no trouble with her."

"I AM ABLE to handle 24 Brownies with no trouble, but cannot fathom my daughter Jane. She's quite bright, very observant and wants very much to learn. She is very creative, capable of spending hours with drawing materials with good results."

"She had terrible temper tantrums when she was younger which have gradually diminished, but still has an awful temper. She has periodic nightmares, but when I try to comfort her, she kicks and hits at me and tells me to get out, but continues to yell if I leave."

She awakens in the morning happy, but if a sock won't go on right she gets absolutely furious. This is typical of her . . . that if something, no matter how trivial, doesn't work just right, she has a fit."

"IGNORING HER does no good; she's quite capable of keeping it up for some time. She will often take out her anger on her older sister; if I get very angry with her and put my foot down, she will be an angel for the rest of the day. However, this is no solution as I still don't know why she acts this way."

"Our doctor says I'm afraid of her, and I guess in some ways I am."

My reply in part: I hope you encourage Jane's creative talent. Also, she will need to conform to some regularity, and respect the rights of others."

She knows you are scared of her. When she gets in a rage, act as if you have no feelings. If she then annoys you too much, walk away from her or send her to another room. Be sure that you don't act as if her ugly ways hurt your feelings."

I AM SURE you talk a lot before you act. See that she learns to respect No. Say it just once."

When she is to be punished, assign her to sit in a chair for 25 minutes, where you can see her. If she leaves the chair too soon, paddle her."

It may be that she strives hard to keep up with her older sister and feels that baby steals away some of her earned attention."

Help Jane cultivate playmates her own age, and when you get a few things settled, try to enjoy her. Do things with her, have fun with her."

Don't let your children view violent TV programs."

My bulletins, "Tantrums: Prevention and Correction" and "The Nervous Child," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper."

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What suggestions have you to make regarding the wallpapering of a house?

A. If using wallpaper throughout the house, relate one room to the other, including the hallways. It is confusing to the eye when each room is papered in a color and design that has no relationship to the others. A good decorator strives for harmony in color and design throughout the house. The blending of neutral colors is conducive to eye-ease and relaxation, besides being decoratively pleasing.

Q. How can I remove the odor from my fingers after having peeled onions?

A. Rub the fingers well with some crushed parsley. Also, after you have eaten onions, you can clear your breath nicely by chewing on a sprig of parsley.

Q. How can I remove rust from copper articles?

A. This will usually yield to liquid ammonia. Polish well afterward with a good copper polish.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is a strict man who must be "Lord and Master" of all he surveys. Although he's only in his late 20s he acts a great deal like my grandfather did when he was 70.

The problem that is causing me great anxiety involves our children who are 4 and 6 years of age.

My husband insists that he and I eat all our meals in the dining room while the children eat in the kitchen alone. He claims the man of the house is entitled to enjoy his meals without having to listen to and look at jabbering and slobbering children.

According to him, he has a weak stomach and the children give him indigestion. What can I do?—MRS. DON'T KNOW.

Dear Mrs.: The trouble is not in his stomach, it's a few feet higher—in his head. A father who cannot tolerate the sight and sound of his children during mealtime is ill.

Youngsters reared in such an atmosphere grow up to hate and fear their father. They see friends enjoying meals with their parents and it gives them the feeling that something must be wrong with them.

If your husband refuses to eat with his children join them in the kitchen and give him so much peace and quiet that he'll take himself to a psychiatrist and get the help he so desperately needs.

Champagne Tastes

Dear Ann: A group of university students had a heated discussion last night and an interesting question came up. We'd like your opinion.

The girl is engaged to an upper middle class law student. She's just plain middle class—a notch below him in the social structure. He wants to get married in the spring. She is stalling with this pitch: "Not until you can take me on a first class honeymoon to Nassau."

He says he can't afford it. She says, "Your father can—don't be so proud. You know he'd be happy to underwrite the trip."

What do you say?—COFFEE HOUSE GROUP.

Dear Group: The middle class girl has fourth class values. If the fellow is lucky she'll stall him off until he finds a first class girl who'll settle for no honeymoon if that's what he can afford.

Love In Bloom

Dear Ann: I'm a woman 51 years of age, in excellent health and I have never married. I'm no man-hater. In fact I enjoy the company of men more than women.

I passed up marriage because, as the oldest of five children, I believed it was my responsibility to look after our semi-invalid mother.

Mother passed away two years ago. I've been going with a professional man who wants to marry me. He is 59, a widower and a fine person, well respected and active in community affairs.

My brother and sisters are appalled at the thought of a woman my age being "a bride." My oldest brother says the Bible states clearly that the sole purpose of marriage is to have a family and that any other reason is sinful.

Is he right? What do you advise?—KATHLEEN.

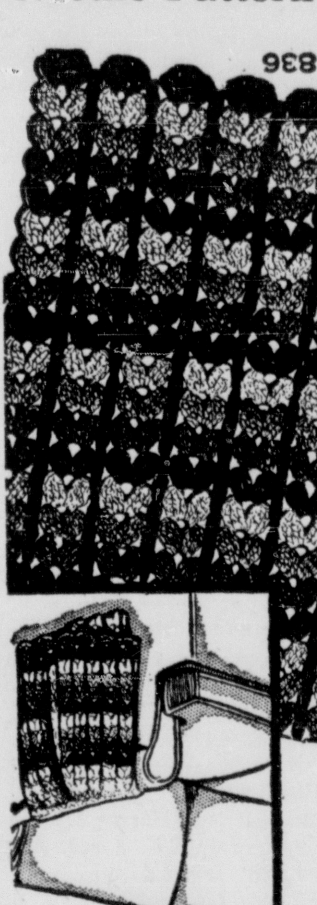

Dear Kathleen: What Bible is he reading? I've never heard of such biblical advice. It may be a little late for you to "go forth and multiply," but marriage that offers companionship in the evening of your years makes a great deal of sense.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Exercise Develops Shapely Thighs

It takes the resistance out of exercise to know that calisthenics need not be rugged. The secret is to put the line of pull through the muscles in need of toning.

With summer soon here, exercise requests are for those which beautify the thighs. Precision calisthenics can beautify the thighs. However, you cannot expect a few minutes of calisthenics to work toning miracles unless you use your muscles properly in everyday movements.

Check to see the way you habitually sit down and rise from a chair. Actually go through the movements so you will sense which muscles are used. Lower yourself into a straight chair, one without arms.

AS YOU SIT down, keep hips tucked under, back straight and bending your knees, sit down. Do not lead with derriere.

In rising from the chair, do not bend forward or assist with arms. Come straight up, forcing the powerful thigh muscles to lift you out of the chair. When you consider how many times you sit down and rise from a chair daily, you can see this everyday movement could serve to beautify.

Stair climbing, done correctly, affords a surprising amount of exercise for the thigh muscles.

Stand in upright posture, put the whole foot on the first step. Then, keeping body erect, straighten the up-bent knee and lift yourself up. This puts the climbing action on the inner thigh muscles and lower abdominals.

The technique for using the thigh muscles in calisthenics is to move the legs from the hips in a side-to-side motion, or a circling motion.

Position: Lying on left side, head on folded arms, legs straight down. Have palm of right hand braced on floor in front of chest. Action: Circle with right leg, making wide circles from the hips, keeping knee straight. Circle eight times in one direction, eight times in another...wide circles. Point with heel and pull toes toward instep. Change sides and repeat.

Position: Lying on side as in first exercise. Action: Raise top leg about 12" in air...hold. Now raise bottom leg up to touch top leg. Hold to slow count of six. Repeat 8 times, holding to slow count of six each time. Change sides and repeat.

FINAL EXERCISE tones muscles of hips and thighs.

Position: Lie face downward on floor, head resting on folded hands.

Action: Lifting legs slightly off floor, separate the legs widely. Be sure to lift with hip and thigh muscles...do not slide legs. Bring legs together, again lifting.

Continue four to eight counts, counting stride and back together as one. Make sure to lift with hip and thigh muscles each time. (c) King Features 1961

May Face Firing Squad

Castro To Halt Televised Questioning Of Captured

By NEIL GILBRIDE and LOUIS DE LA HABAN
KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime announced today it will halt the televised parade of captured invaders, who soon may march before his firing squads.

The last public interrogation was set for tonight after a session in which the son of an anti-Castro leader told his captors he was duped about chances of the April 17 invasion but that it was not his father who deceived him.

The son of Manuel Antonio de Varona conceded in a telecast monitored at Key West that he was deceived when told the Cuban people would rise against Castro.

He made no reply when asked if he knew "your father has asked for the open intervention of the United States with its submarines, with its invading troops."

The elder De Varona is a member of the Revolutionary Council which coordinated the invasion.

Young De Varona, wearing horn rimmed eyeglasses, argued spiritedly with interrogators. He asked them if they felt so certain about a public support of the Castro regime, why did they not hold an election.

While Cuban inquisitors peppered the invasion captives with loaded questions before TV cameras, the first airline passengers arriving in Florida since the conflict were wary in expressing themselves as thankful they were able to leave Cuba.

Most of 86 persons who got off a plane at Miami were Cuban nationals. Some of them scurried away from newsmen seeking interviews. Others refused to identify themselves when telling of life in Cuba under active war conditions.

An old man said "we come from hell."

Guests from the Beaver club were Miss Mildred Milkovich, secretary - treasurer of the 3rd District and Mrs. Fran McDaniels, past president. Miss Joy Weis of Steubenville was another guest, along with 18 members of the Salem club.

Mrs. Dorothy Horsley and Miss Mary White were hostesses and in charge of decorations. The tables featured arrangements of white mums, frosted with blue and silver leaves. Lighted blue tapers completed the setting. Miniature boxes of candy and other gift items were favors.

The next luncheon meeting is May 9 at Travelers Hotel.

Atty. William J. Weinman of Steubenville, who was to speak, was unable to attend.

Following the meeting, the men continued the work. Next meeting is Tuesday.

Kennedy's First Guinea Pig

McDowell County, W. Va. Starts Food Stamp Plan

WELCH, W.Va. (AP) — McDowell County, a rough and rugged section of southernmost West Virginia which has become the symbolic depressed area, today becomes the first guinea pig in President Kennedy's emergency food stamp program.

Penny-pinched adults march past Gov. W. W. Barron to sign their names and tell what they're earning — if anything. Then government agencies will decide how much free food each family head receives.

It's part of an experimental program Kennedy launched to try to give needy persons a better balanced diet.

Here's the way it works: Those taking part in the program will be required to buy stamps in the amount they normally spend on food. Then they get additional stamps free.

Someone in the plan who makes a fair living will get only a few free stamps. Someone earning a pittance gets more stamps.

Someone without any income gets enough stamps free to permit him to feed his family a nutritional diet.

The federal government will buy back the stamps from the grocer.

The food stamp experiment also will be tried in seven other hard-pressed communities — Franklin County, Ill.; Floyd County, Ky.; Detroit, Mich.; the Virginia-Hibbing-Nashua communities in northern Minnesota; Silver Bow County, Mont.; San Miguel County, N.M.; and Fayette County, Pa.

The actual distribution of food stamps gets under way in June. The eight-county trial, affecting 300,000 to 350,000 persons, is calculated to cost the government $50 million the first year. If it proves successful and is put to use in most states, it probably will add $400 million to the annual costs.

Fire School Set By Area Firemen

About 40 attended a meeting of the Tri-State Firemen's Association Tuesday evening at Midland and heard plans outlined for the annual fire school.

The school will be held on Sundays, May 7 and 14, at the Wellsville fire grounds on Danbury Ave. from 9:30 a. m. to 5 p. m. A box lunch will be served.

Robert Lloyd of the Wellsville volunteer fire department, will be the instructor and will be assisted by two instructors from the Warren department.

Homer Cronin of the Liverpool Township West department, president, presided at the meeting at the Midland Borough Building. Lawrence Seckman of the Calcutta volunteer firemen, treasurer, gave the report.

Badges will be given to past presidents at the next meeting at the Glenmoor station. It will be announced, Fred Fryman of Liverpool Township West, secretary, reported.

Blaze Destroys Barn With Garden Tools

LISBON — A two-story barn at 232 Lee Ave. was destroyed by fire at 9:30 p. m. Tuesday, according to Fire Chief Thirl Flanagan, who said defective wiring may have been responsible.

Carl E. Mellinger, owner, valued it at $1,500 and carried $900 insurance.

Firemen were unable to determine what caused the blaze, which had a good start when they arrived.

There was nothing in the barn except garden tools, a wheelbarrow and other gardening equipment.

He uses the barn as a garage for his car but he and his wife were out of town in the car at the time.

The barn is across the street from the fairgrounds and the fire attracted a large crowd.

All plants, including the onion, make sugar in some form. However, only in cane and beets does sugar occur in large enough quantities to make refining worth while.

State Rests Its Case In Bribery Trial

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Ohio (AP)—The defense was to start presentation of its case today in the trial of Dover Mayor Clifford C. Froelich, charged on seven counts of taking bribes from George Markos in return for allowing gamblers to operate in Dover.

Markos has been convicted of giving bribes to the mayor.

The state rested its case Tuesday without calling Nicholas Nigro, its star witness in five previous trials of men accused of bribing the mayor. The move by James Patrick, assistant Tuscarawas County prosecutor, caught defense attorneys off guard and they asked a recess until today.

The request was granted by Common Pleas Judge John H. Lamneck.

Patrick explained Nigro's testimony was not needed in the Froelich trial.

"We needed Nigro's testimony before to prove a conspiracy," John Gleason, assistant Ohio attorney general, said. "By showing a conspiracy, we could get in hearsay evidence."

Nigro has admitted being a gambler and a briber.

Mayor Froelich has publicly admitted taking money from Markos. He gave investigators a paper listing dates and amounts of six payments totaling $1,500.

He claimed the money was given to him for charitable purposes and it was passed on to the Salvation Army or used to buy trash cans for the city.

15 At Democrat Event

EAST PALESTINE — About 15 attended a meeting of the Democrat Club Tuesday night at the City Hall at which Mayor Robert Harding, Republican candidate for re-election, spoke on the current city power plant improvement program.

Springfield Township Man Dies In Wreck

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Walter G. Heston, 46, of nearby Springfield Township, was found dead early today after his car went off the road and overturned in a ditch in South Akron, police reported.

Police said Heston's head was under 18 inches of water when they arrived at the scene. The Summit County coroner's office is investigating.

News Media Get Preview Of 'Steelmark' Programs

District newspaper, television and radio personnel were given a preview of the Steelmark Days programs during a luncheon meeting Tuesday at the Williams Country Club in Weirton.

Representatives from East Liverpool, Steubenville, Weirton and Wellsburg outlined their activities for the "days", which will salute the steel industry.

Representing the steel companies directly involved in the industry promotion were C. G. Tournay, president of Weirton Steel, which played host for the meeting; Glenn Roberts of the Midland Works of Crucible Steel, and Nelson Lang of Wheeling Steel.

John L. Laux, general chairman of the Steelmark coordinating committee, served as master of ceremonies.

Don Eckert of the East Liverpool Merchants Association outlined East Liverpool's week of activities.

The local delegation also included E. R. Chandler, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, C. W. Ashbaugh of the Chamber, Charles Stuart of radio station WOHI and George A. Shaw and Arthur Thomas of The Review.

Assembly Line Techniques Used In 'Roundup' Of 6 Men

Both the police department and Municipal Court used assembly line techniques to handle the cases of six men arrested Tuesday afternoon along the Horn Switch tracks off Dresden Ave., climax of what Judge Samuel M. Chertoff referred to as "one of the wettest days in the history of East Liverpool," both literally and figuratively.

Patrolmen William A. Devon and Charles A. Winters were dispatched to the railroad property in a cruiser at 3:40 p. m. after police received a telephoned complaint of "a big fight."

The patrolmen said they found two men engaged in a fight and two others who showed signs of a recent scuffle. They took six into custody, identifying them as: Joseph Wooley of Garfield St., William Fisher, city, Edward Starkey of R. D. 1, William Drumm of LaCrosse, Robert Wooten of Dodge St. and Paul Higgins, city. Apparently two others vanished when they saw the cruiser approaching, Officer Winters said.

About that time a torrential rain began, one of several that hit the district yesterday. The two patrolmen loaded all six into the cruiser and drove them to City Hall. Observers said it looked like one of the familiar acts in the old Ringling Bros. Circus when eight men piled out of the car alongside City Hall.

Judge Chertoff disposed of all six cases simultaneously. After reading the charges to each man, he told those who pleaded guilty to stand at the left of the courtroom and those who pleaded not guilty to move to the right.

"Fish on one side and fowl on the other," he said.

Then those who had pleaded guilty were taken before the bench again for sentencing after the judge reviewed their past records. They were Wooley, Fisher, Starkey and Higgins. Each drew a $25 fine and $7.50 costs, which means about 11 days in County Jail.

Wooten and Drumm had pleaded not guilty, but Wooten later switched his plea to guilty and drew the same penalty.

Drumm protested he was not drinking — and for good reason. He said he had been released from County Jail 40 minutes earlier after serving 20 days on an intoxication charge. He said he hitch-hiked a ride from Lisbon, arriving shortly before the roundup.

Starkey and Higgins backed up Drumm's story, so the judge dismissed the charge. "Yesterday was the wettest April day in Ohio's history and I must say it was one of the wettest in the history of East Liverpool," the judge commented. Questioned by the judge about the gathering, Higgins said: "We just happened to run into each other down there."

Hancock School Head Airs Bond Plan For Newell Group

Robert H. Hall, superintendent of Hancock County schools, discussed the proposed $54-million bond issue to be decided in a special election May 16 when the Newell Women's Club met Monday night.

Thirty-one attended in the American Legion home. Supt. Hall was accompanied by Charles McKinney, assistant superintendent, and John W. Boyd of Chester, member of the County Board of Education from Grant District.

Supt. Hall displayed architect sketches of proposed new high school buildings in Pughtown and Weirton, plus the new junior high planned for Weirton. The buildings are designed in campus-style. McKinney screened slides of Newark (Ohio) schools, similar in design to those planned for Hancock.

They were introduced by Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner, program chairman. Mrs. Ann Cawthorn, president, conducted business. Mrs. Betty Grimm reported on a meeting of the City Federation held last week. Miss Betty Buben also attended.

Members were reminded to make reservations for the dinner honoring Wells High School seniors May 3 at 6:30 p. m. in the Chester Masonic Temple. Reservations must be in by Friday.

200 Attend 4-H Event

LISBON — More than 200 representing 15 clubs attended a practice Tuesday night at Fairfield High School Auditorium for the "4-H Revue" which county 4-H Clubs will present as a grandstand show Tuesday, Aug. 22, at the County Fair. The title is "TV Through the Week." Another practice will be held in June.

Mrs. Arlene Copestick led devotions. Hostesses were Mrs. Edith Delong, Mrs. Nedra Delong and Mrs. Dorothy Delong. Guests included Mrs. Mary Broomhall and Mrs. Lyle.

Officers will be installed at the final meeting of the season May 8. A coverdinner dinner will be served and members will be notified of what food to bring.

Weirton Steel Recalls 657 Since January

The Weirton Steel Co. has recalled over 675 employees to work since Jan. 1, due to improved business conditions.

C. G. Tournay, president, said that in addition to the recovery in the automobile business and numerous other finished products, including galvanized sheets and tin plate, the Weirton employment picture was improved by the lighting of No. 4 Blast Furnace on April 17. The big furnace had been down for relining for six and one-half months.

The Weirton Steel employment office is continuing to call employees back as needed.

Tournay said the upturn in steel is developing into a recovery which is broader than had been anticipated just a few weeks ago. He said there is good reason to hope for a continuation of the general improvement through early summer.

Strike Closes Sterling Plant

A strike by a few members of the spray department closed the Sterling China Co. pottery in Wellsville today, idling between 450-500 employees. It was termed a "wildcat" strike by officials of the firm.

The plant will resume Thursday as the unionists, involved in a seniority dispute, were directed by IBOP officials this morning to return to their jobs. Local 24 is involved in the dispute.

William T. Pomeroy, president, said the firm did not receive any advance notice of the strike and said it was unauthorized.

The dispute involves five women employed in the spray department. Pomeroy said he talked this morning with Wayne Rose, president of the local, when he reported for work. He said Rose told him he didn't know there was going to be a strike.

The women were on the scene about 6:30 this morning with picket signs when the other workers arrived. They refused to cross the picket line and returned home.

Sterling produces hotel and restaurant ware and a line of fine china.

State Patrol Probes Mishap Which Hurt 6

Three city young people, injured in a three-car traffic mishap on Route 30 near West Point Saturday, remain hospitalized today, and Ohio Highway Patrol officers are continuing an investigation of the crash which hurt six teenagers.

John Robert Reark, 17, of Fisher Park remains in "satisfactory" condition today at the Osteopathic Hospital with skull and shoulder injuries.

He was the driver of a car, headed east, which collided with an oncoming auto driven by Raymond Cusick, 19, of Lisbon R. D. 2, who was making a left turn off Route 30. The two autos then struck a parked auto in which John Harold Barnes, 18, of Lisbon R. D. 2 and Judith Kay Greenwood, 17, of Rogers R. D. 1 were sitting.

William Kidder, 17, of 1572 Etruria St., passenger in Reark's car, is in "fair" condition at City Hospital with multiple cuts of the face. Marilyn Lee Brand, 18, of 1220 Oakwood Ave., passenger in Cusick's car, is "fair" today at City Hospital with injuries of the arm, leg and forehead. Cusick was discharged yesterday from Salem City Hospital.

Fathers of Little League players are urged to attend a "work party" Saturday at 9 a. m. at the Travelers Hotel. Letters were sent to Little League fathers, explaining the donations.

Bell Continues Slide In 3rd Loss

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Baltimore Orioles, scoring all their runs in the first five innings behind Steve Barber, defeated the Cleveland Indians 5-2, and the Kansas City A's walloped Minnesota 20-2 Tuesday night in the American League.

Boston whipped Washington 6-1 in a day game. The New York at Detroit and Los Angeles at Chicago games were rained out.

Barber, 22, left-hander, blanked the Indians without a hit until the sixth inning — when Johnny Temple extended his hitting streak to 11 games with a one-out double—but then needed ninth-inning relief help from Hoyt Wilhelm. Jim Gentile drove in three Baltimore runs, two with a first-inning homer, and Jerry Adair got the other two with a double and a single. Gary Bell, the young Cleveland right-hander who had arm trouble last season, lost his third of the year and sixth in a row since last July.

The A's rapped seven Minnesota pitchers for 16 hits—half of them for extra bases—and also collected 10 walks. They scored six runs in the third off loser Ted Sadowski, then ran off with eight runs in the sixth, all charged to Paul Giel in one-third of an inning.

Haywood Sullivan hit two triples a double and a single and drove in five runs for the A's. Norm Bass, 22, was the winner in his first major league start. The right-hander gave up seven hits and walked nine.

Right-hander Gene Conley, making a belated start after helping the Boston Celtics win the pro basketball title, was a winner in his first AL game with the Red Sox. Conley, acquired in a trade with the Philadelphia Phillies, shut out the Senators on five hits for eight frames, then needed relief by Mike Fornieles. Pete Burnside was the loser.

Beaver Local Light Fund Hits $9,802

After one week of solicitations, the Beaver Local Football Light Committee has taken a big step toward its goal of $15,000 for the purpose of erecting lights at the Beaver Local High School football field.

A total of $4,802 in donations was reported during the first week of the campaign. The committee reported Tuesday night at the home of Dr. Arthur Cloran, acting chairman, of the group.

The latest figure was headed by an $800 donation from the Beaver Local Boosters Club.

The $4,802, plus the $5,000 received from an anonymous donor, brings the total to $9,802 which places the drive almost $5,200 from its goal. The campaign will continue until May 9.

Cloran said the committee was "very well pleased with the results during the first week of the campaign and the figure was much higher than expected."

Another report will be given next Tuesday.

By R. L. LIDE
Shirt-sleeve weather finally arrived last Sunday. It was an ideal spring day, with sunshine and 70-degree temperature that opened up the season for outdoor cooking, fishing and gathering spring mushrooms.

I ran in to three fellows gathering mushrooms and they had enough to smother a large steak—and had hunted for only about an hour.

These were the blacktops, the first to appear in the spring. When the group is soaked with rain and the weather turns warm, they pop up like magic. Three days in a row like last Sunday and you can gather them by the basketful.

THE LAKE temperature was 54 degrees and fish should certainly become active, although the Lake Guilford fishermen were catching 6-to-8-inch crappies, a few blueheads and an occasional bass.

There were plenty of fishermen out, although the only fish I saw taken was in the bay at what used to be Kuypers Landing.

Many of the picnic tables have been placed around the lake and they were being used by an unusual lot of people so early in the season.

I wonder what it will be like when the weather turns warm and stays warm? If my observations are correct, camping and picnicking get more popular each season at Guilford Lake. I still haven't heard anything about the outcome of being allowed the use of 3½-horsepower motors on the lake.

THE PARKING lot on Zepernick was jammed with autos. At least 75 people surrounded the lake. About half of them were children trying to catch a fish. But the fish have not moved into the shoreline as of now.

The pond on the Zepernick area called "Ruff Pond" was being fished by five people, but they did not get a bite. I don't know for sure, but I think all the fish in the pond were killed by last winter's ice and snow. At any rate the pond was to be drained and restocked this year anyway.

Many people were parking on the roadside at the beaver ponds near Guilford and the Thomas Stein pond nearby, hoping to get a glance at a beaver.

Toward dusk is the best time to see them, although I have spotted them out in mid-afternoon. Even after dark they show no particular concern about a flashlight.

One thing is for sure, last season's open season on beavers had little effect on the population. There will be more beavers next year than we have now.

Four-Way Battle Seen For Ohio Track Crown

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Early returns indicate Akron Buchtel, Springfield South, Dayton Roosevelt and Cleveland East Tech will fight it out May 26-27 for the Ohio high school track-field Class AA championship. Defending champion Cleveland Glenview appears out of it.

In the early season series of dual meets and the Mansfield Relays, athletes from Buchtel, Roosevelt, South and East Tech have come up with top-notch performances.

Ed Chay of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, who plans a biweekly compilation of the outstanding athletes as they head for the month-away finals, issued his first list today.

The preliminary look indicates that Mel Orr of East Tech, with marks of 9.9 in the century and 21.3 in the 220-yard dash, is the state's fastest man. Buchtel's Barry Sugden, with a 10-flat hundred, 21.8 in the 220-yard dash, and a state-leading 49.4 in the quarter-mile, looms as a point-winner who could carry Buchtel to the heights.

In his first list, Chay said there may be some mistakes. He'd like to hear from coaches who have boys with better performances.

Here are the top-notchers:

100-yard dash: Mel Orr, Cleveland East Tech, 9.9; Jim McNamara, Cleveland St. Ignace, 9.9; John Garberick, Bucyrus, 9.9; Henry Weaver, Mansfield, 10; Barry Sugden, Akron Buchtel, 10. 220-yard dash: Orr, 21.3; Sugden, 21.8; Chuck Crawford, Dayton Roosevelt, 22.2; Ken Robinson, Cleveland East, 22.2; Tom Wright, Dayton Trotwood, 22.3. 440-yard dash: Sugden, 49.4; Tom Fugate (Defending champion), Springfield South, 50.3; Crawford, 50.3; Robinson, 50.8.

3 District Lakes Will Be Stocked With Pickerel

Three district lakes are among several in the state which will be stocked with chain pickerel fry.

The fry will be stocked in Ruff Pond and Zepernick Lake, both near Lisbon, and in Brush Creek Pond 4 in Jefferson County.

The chain pickerel are being stocked in the smaller water areas where it is thought they will serve as predator species on the fast producing pan fish and also will provide sport as a game fish.

The fry were hatched from eggs obtained from chain pickerel netted in Long Lake, Summit County. The fish netted ranged from 12 to 27½ inches, with the largest weighing over seven pounds.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching — Stu Miller, Giants, saved 3-1 victory over Dodgers with three perfect innings of relief.

Hitting — Haywood Sullivan, A's, collected two triples, a double, a single and a walk for perfect 4-for-4 and drove in five runs in 20-2 romp over Twins.

Milwaukee's Lew Burdette hit only five batters last season but one of his pitches broke the left wrist of Dick Groat, Pittsburgh shortstop.

9 Or 10 Derby Eligibles Expected To Run Blue Grass Prep Thursday

By JIM HAMPTON
LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A standout field of Kentucky Derby eligibles was being assembled at Keeneland today for the $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes.

Among the 9 or 10 thoroughbreds expected to start Thursday are the winners of the Louisiana and California derbies, the Chesapeake Stakes and Santa Anita's San Felipe Handicap.

The field is regarded as one of the finest ever put together for this race, which has produced three derby winners — the last one Tomy Lee in 1959.

At a mile and an eighth the Blue Grass is one furlong shorter than the run for the roses May 6 at Churchill Downs.

Alberta Ranches' Flutterby and Kerr Stables' twin threat of Mr. Consistency and Gay Landing shaped up as the early betting favorites.

Flutterby won the San Felipe Handicap and has finished in the money in four other stakes this season.

His stablemate derby co-favorite Four-and-Twenty, last week gained Keeneland's Forerunner purse—three of whose last four winners have gone on to win the derby—but is not eligible for the Blue Grass.

Mr. Consistency, Flutterby and Gay Landing finished 1-2-3 in the California Derby.

Other top expected starters include Vera Smith's Bass Clef, Louisiana Derby winner; Chesapeake Stakes winner Orleans Doge, owned by Ben Weinert and William Ressegut; and Eastwood Stable's Loyal Son, second in the California and Arkansas derbies.

Calumet Farm, whose devil red and blue silks have been in the Kentucky Derby winner's circles seven times since 1941, has Sho Lea to test its mettle in the Blue Grass.

Shotputter Seeks Sweep In Midwest

DES MOINES, Iowa. (AP) — Baylor shotputter John Fry is shooting for a sweep of the three major Midwest relays titles in the 52nd running of the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday.

Fry, whose all-time best is a toss of 58-10, won the Texas and Kansas crowns. If he captures the Drake title he will snuff a bid by Oklahoma's Mike Lindsay to join the select list of three-time winners in the Drake meet.

Lindsay, a Briton, won here as a sophomore and junior. Only 12 athletes in the history of the meet have won the same event three times.

The shotput battle — with Georgia Tech strongman Ed Nutting also challenging—is one of many featured field events.

The pole vault matches three 15-foot vaulters, defending champion J. D. Martin of Oklahoma, George Davies of Oklahoma State and Dexter Elkins of Southern Methodist.

Ralph Boston of Tennessee A&I, holder of the world record in the broad jump, will attempt to better the oldest Drake mark of 26-1¾ by Jesse Owens. Boston also has announced plans to run in two spring relays for his school.

Midwest track fans will get their first look at high jumper John Thomas of Boston University, who has leaped 7-3¾. Thomas hopes to use the Drake meet as the kickoff to a successful outdoor campaign to overtake the Soviet jumpers.

TV Viewers Due To See More Of Brawls In NFL

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Television viewers will get to see more of the unscheduled action in National Football League games next fall.

Commissioner Pete Rozelle said today that while he agrees with his late predecessor, Bert Bell, that violence should not be featured on televised football games, he also believes the fans should know what's happening on the field.

"Moving the cameras to show the flag and blue skies just doesn't make much sense," Rozelle said in an interview.

Bell was adamant that player brawls should not be shown on television.

"I've talked to the network about this policy and told them to go ahead and exercise their judgment when these things occur," Rozelle said. "They really don't happen that often."

The 35-year-old commissioner is here for his league's annual meeting, which opens today.

Yogi Berra has played in 68 World Series games, a record, for the Yankees since his first classic in 1947.

NCAA Ready To End Probation For Auburn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today is expected to end probation and permit Auburn University once again to take part in NCAA-sponsored championships and bowl games.

A top NCAA source said the decision would come when the council acted on a report by the committee on infractions, which has been reviewing the athletic "policies and practices" of the Alabama school. The council ends a three-day meeting today.

Auburn has been on probation for player recruiting rule violations since 1952, when the NCAA began enforcement of its code on recruiting of athletes.

The council Tuesday banned organized summer basketball competition. Players taking part in such summer basketball could not play college basketball under the proposal by the NCAA council.

Most organized summer basketball is played either in the Los Angeles area or in the Eastern United States. New York's Catskill Mountain resorts, the so-called "Borscht Circuit," is a hot bed of summer basketball.

NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers said the council refused to delay by one year a new ban on participation of high school football players in all-star football games.

The 1961 NCAA convention adopted the new rule. Some promoters of all-star games had asked that it be eased for some games this year.

Carolinians Lead North, South Event

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — The 61st North and South Amateur Golf Tournament had a pronounced Carolinian accent today as 10 of the first round match play survivors were from the Carolinas area.

Headed the list was Charlie Smith of Gastonia, N.C., the defending champion.

Only one Carolinian lost Tuesday and that was unavoidable, Bill Harvey of Greensboro edging

Bob Galloway, of Winston-Salem, 2-up.

The medalist, little Wayne Jackson of Hampton, Va., was 3 and 2 victim of Dale Morey of Morganton, N.C. in the opening round, played under a broiling sun and in a brisk wind.

Morning and afternoon rounds today will leave eight survivors at dusk for quarter-final play Thursday.

Morey started the 16-match second round against Ed Tutwiler of Charleston, W. Va.

Ed Meister of Willoughby, Ohio, played Dave Smith, Gastonia, N.C., today after downing Truman Connell, Jupiter, Fla., Tuesday, 2 up.

Winter Deals Net Detroit AL Contender

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK (AP) — On the basis of early returns, the Detroit Tigers appear to have been the most successful in their various off-season player maneuvers.

The Tigers, off to a blazing start with eight in a row after dropping their first game, came out of winter deals with Milwaukee and others a first-string catcher in Dick Brown, a regular center fielder in Billy Bruton and two capable relief pitchers in Terry Fox and Jim Donohue.

To fill the gap left by the departure of Frank Bolling, the Tigers moved up Jake Wood, 23, a widely heralded rookie from their Denver farm. Wood is hitting .286 and has turned out to be a good leadoff man.

With Bruton hitting in the No. 2 hole and Steve Boros, another rookie, playing third base and hitting .333, the new faces are paying off in Tiger Stadium. Chuck Cottier, also acquired from the Braves, is a capable infield reserve behind Chico Fernandez.

Perhaps the most important of all was the acquisition of Brown, former Chicago White Sox and Cleveland catcher who went to Milwaukee in December and then was thrown into the Bolling deal a few days later. He hit only .163 in Chicago last year but is hitting .321 at Detroit.

Bullpen pitching was a real problem for Detroit before they picked up Fox and Donohue. Fox, a 12-game winner at Vancouver, has a 1-0 record and has appeared in three Tiger games. Donohue also has a 1-0 record after three appearances. The Tigers grabbed Donohue from the Los Angeles Dodgers organization in the regular minor league draft for $25,000. He had a 5-5 record in St. Paul last year.

Two NBA Stars Jump To New Cage League

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two stars of the National Basketball Association have jumped to the rival American Basketball League, signing with the San Francisco Comets. There are indications of more league-leaping to come.

Kenny Sears, six years with the New York Knickerbockers of the NBA, signed Tuesday with the Comets.

Last week Mike Farmer, with the NBA Cincinnati Royals last season, signed with the Comets, and Bill Sharman left the Boston Celtics to become general manager and coach of the Los Angeles Jets of the new ABL.

The jumping may bring about a court test of the NBA option clause. NBA contracts, like those of the National Football League, carry a one-year option beyond the contract date, giving the NBA club the option to sign the player the succeeding year. The player is free to deal for himself only if his club fails to exercise the option.

Ned Irish, president of Madison Square Garden which owns the Knickerbockers, refused to comment on whether the Knicks would fight Sears' action in court.

But Sharman said when he signed to coach the Jets that several NBA players are interested in the new league and he believed a court test would be necessary to clear up the situation.

Buffalo, San Juan Shake IL Standings

By The Associated Press
Buffalo and San Juan capitalized on extra base blows Tuesday night for victories that shook up the International League standings.

Buffalo's pitcher Babe Birrer lashed a two-out double in the ninth to drive in three runs that gave the Bisons a 6-3 triumph over Richmond.

Johnny Glenn, Ben Mateosky, Fred Whitfield and Ed Olivares hammered home runs for San Juan in the Marlins' 9-2 conquest of Rochester.

Toronto at Columbus and Syracuse at Jersey City were rained out.

Outfielder Lenny Green of the Minnesota Twins batted .389 in 17 games against Kansas City last season.

Toledo Bowler Starts Fast In All-Events Bid

DETROIT (AP) — John Powell Jr. of Toledo is off to a flying 656 start in his quest of the classic division all-events crown of the American Bowling Congress tournament.

Powell rolled 230-192-234 as he paced the Ansberg-West Club of Toledo to a 2,874 total in its classic debut Tuesday night. He sees action in doubles and singles today before returning to the lanes tonight for the team's second classic appearance.

Bob Brayman of Detroit leads the classic division all-events with 1,963.

There were no changes in regular division standings Tuesday. The day's best singles effort was 641 by Paul Feeman of Lancaster, Ohio, while Ken Toole of Toledo was highest in all-events with 1,776.

The $1,000 first prize, won by Wynona Laughlin of Melba, Iowa, is known as the Judge Robert S. Marx Award in honor of a Cincinnati judge. Plaques for the high schools of the top five essay writers are contributed by Mrs. A. B. (Dolly) Cohen of Cincinnati, a member of the committee.

Disbarred Ohio Attorney Freed Under $500 Bond

MARYSVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Disbarred attorney Harvey Crow, jailed for contempt of court Monday, was free under $500 bond today pending outcome of an appeal to the Third District Court of Appeals in Lima.

Common Pleas Judge Gwynn Sanders had sentenced Crow to 10 days in jail, charging the Urbana, Champaign County man was in contempt because he was practicing law in his court.

Crow, who has been in litigation with bar associations and courts for years, gained his freedom late Tuesday night. Earlier, he had written his own appeal to the Lima court and asked for release on bond.

Judge Sanders said Crow was assisting another attorney for the plaintiff in a civil suit, and was preparing and filing orders for subpoenas for witnesses. The case was declared a mistrial after Crow's sentencing.

Crow, 57, had been disbarred in Champaign County in 1950 on charges of unethical acts in divorce and property settlement cases. Some months ago the Ohio Supreme Court upheld the disbarment and ordered Crow to turn in his license, placing him on probation at the same time.

Now Ohio Supreme Court attaches have asked for a record of the Marysville court proceedings for study by the high court judges.

Would Create Commission

House Approval Expected
On State Fair Legislation

By ART PARKS
and PHIL GUNBY
COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A bill creating an expositions commission to run the State Fair and fairgrounds is expected to get the approval of the House today.

Even if it gets through both houses without delay, the measure will not affect this summer's fair.

County Legislators
Vote 'Buy American'

Columbiana County's two representatives voted for the "Buy American" bill passed by the House Tuesday afternoon.

Backing the measure favoring domestic-made goods were Rep. Clarence Wetzel of Lisbon, and Rep. J. Warren Bettis of Salineville, both Republicans.

But it would create a 15-member commission, and a full-time general manager with power to hire three assistants, who would be responsible for future fairs and use of the grounds in northern Columbus.

Critics have called for a halt to the fair's running in the red in recent years, and for fuller utilization of the buildings and other fairground facilities during the rest of the year. The bill would be effective Nov. 1.

Members of the House eventually will have to consider creation of another commission, to be responsible for setting up a statewide educational television network. The Senate gave its approval, 36-0, Tuesday to a bill calling for establishment of the nine-member TV commission. It would be empowered to own or lease the network's transmission facilities.

But a bill requiring annual inspection of all school buses carrying more than nine students was lost in the Senate Tuesday on an 18-18 tie vote after sweeping through the House 132-1 last month.

The bill particularly was aimed at privately owned buses used to carry parochial or private school pupils, and those operated under contract with parents and to public school officials. Although many of these have been submitted for inspection along with public school system buses—which are covered by an inspection law—the bill was designed to close a gap in the law.

Reconsideration is expected. Anyone whose vote contributed to the defeat can move to reconsider within three legislative days, which would be as late as next Monday in this case.

Sen. C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, majority leader, changed his vote after the roll call to be in position to bring the bill up again.

Three bills were introduced Tuesday in the Senate, including one that proposes admission fees for state parks — 50 cents for adults, 25 cents for children under 13.

In other action, senators: Confirmed Gov. Michael V. DiSalle's appointments of Fred H. Johnson, Columbus, to the Ohio University trustees (term ending in 1968); Esther R. Hardy, Fremont, to the Liquor Control Board (reappointment, to 1965); John H. Pace, Columbus, to Real Estate Examiners' Board (1963) and Stanley C. Allyn, Dayton, to the Ohio State University trustees (1968).

Agreed 35-0 to a bill letting conservancy districts maintain recreation facilities on federal or state-owned land in the district. It goes to the House.

Also passed, 33-1, and sent to the House a bill permitting non-charter cities to sell urban redevelopment property through negotiation.

The House shot down a bill Tuesday, running up 87 no votes to 44 years on a measure which would have let the state permit women to work 55 hours a week for inventory, seasonal or other special work periods. The maximum now is 48. Opponents said employers can hire extra help during heavy work times.

However, the House completed passage of a Senate-approved bill modernizing laws governing all commercial transactions such as sales, bank deposits, bills of lading, etc., and effective in mid-1962. The 114-17 decision brings Ohio in line with nine other states and eventually, backers hope, this will be a nationally uniform arrangement.

TRAVEL GUIDE. Born to tour this summer, this pale green, wrinkle-resistant dress holds its easy shape and graceful good looks in the suitcase and out. It can be worn with or without belt.

Three other bills okayed by the House now go to the Senate for further action.

One is the $7.5 million deficiency appropriation needed to keep the state in the business of matching county relief expenditures until June 30, end of the two-year period for which the 1959 legislature appropriated money. The money ran out, lawmakers say, because of the unexpectedly severe recession.

Another requires tax-supported agencies, state and local, to buy goods produced in the United States, unless U.S. supplies are insufficient or federal subsidies would be threatened.

The third tightens restrictions on dental work by unlicensed persons or firms.

Wart hogs in Kruger National Park, South Africa, frequently become intoxicated. They love to eat fallen marula berries — which ferment in the heat.

Officials, Stockholders Meet

GE Striving To Patch Up
Its Damaged Reputation

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — The reputation of a business—or business in general—can be a fragile thing. And General Electric officials and stockholders assembled here today are tackling this problem: How can a damaged reputation be mended?

They all know there has been damage aplenty. And so do a multitude of other business executives. Their employees and their stockholders have had varying degrees of jitters ever since GE and 28 other makers of electrical equipment ran afoul of the anti-trust laws.

In February, they were fined nearly $2 million after pleading guilty or no contest to charges of price fixing and bid rigging. Seven officials, three of them GE men, went to jail for 30 days. The public also is looking over the shoulder of GE executives and stockholders today.

In some quarters, the entire business community's code of ethics has been questioned. Some say that the United States vaunted system of capitalistic and competitive enterprise has been put in a bad light before the world.

The problem is being tackled here in typical American fashion. The stockholders are meeting, openly asking an accounting, and then voting on the re-election of the 16 directors.

The GE chairman and president, Ralph J. Cordiner, says the way to mend the company's reputation is to admit the past faults and tighten up regulations and inspections to see that it doesn't happen again.

His critics include James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, who is demanding a vote of censure, without any hope of getting it.

The free-for-all taking place here at the annual meeting of the GE shareholders has wider implications.

The public has been asking: How could such a widespread law violation go over a period of years? Those admitting they were in the price-fixing conspiracy apparently accepted it as a way of corporate life. Some of the men who pleaded guilty said that was how one behaved if he wanted to get ahead, or even hold his own, in a big company.

Some GE stockholders are taking a down-to-earth stand. They are worried about what will happen to company sales, if the furor about past practices isn't silenced. Others are worried about what will happen to GE's financial future as a result of damage suits growing out of the antitrust sentences.

And the business community in general is worried because some critics have used the case to attack all business standards, to discredit business politically, to talk of punitive laws and more government regulation.

Gets 'Pioneer Award'

CLEVELAND (AP)—Roland P. Koehring, in charge of research at General Motors Corp.'s Delco Moraine Division in Dayton, was presented the first "Pioneer Award" of the Metal Powder Industries Federation at the federation's convention Tuesday night. Koehring plans to retire soon, after 40 years in automotive research. He won the award for "advancing the science of powder metallurgy from a laboratory technique to an industrial process."

There are so-called "bargain" tires, "cheapie" tires, "discount" tires and other tires you've never even heard of.

Most of them do a lot of shouting about price. But there's a big difference in what goes into them, as compared to a Goodyear tire.

1. Goodyear gives you a stronger tire body. It's the tire body that takes the beating. And it all depends on cords and plies. So we tested our 3-T Nylon All-Weather—priced at $12.88*—against nine other nylon cord tires in the $10-$12 price class or better. Goodyear's tire rated 23.2% stronger than the average rating of all the others.

2. Goodyear gives you a tougher tread. You need toughness where the tire meets the road. So, Goodyear gives you all-new tread rubber in every tire. And it pays off good: Goodyear's tread was greater than the average of the rest.

3. Goodyear gives you greater over-all strength! Comparing the results of body tests and tread tests, Goodyear comes out way ahead. Actually, Goodyear not only proved out best on both counts but topped them all in over-all quality rating, too!

Before you part with $10, $11 or $12 for any tire, get the inside story. Remember that for about the same price, you can get a lot more tire—a Turnpike-Proved Goodyear tire. It's called the 3-T Nylon All-Weather. And it costs you as little as $12⁸⁸

By HAL HUMPHREY

Common Man Portrayed As Sucker On TV

Don't some of you veteran TV watchers frequently have the feeling that Ralph Edwards ("This Is Your Life") and Allen Funt ("Candid Camera") aren't as ingenious and imaginative as they might be?

For example, Funt seems to think that only the poor slob who works for a weekly pay check is funny. Hal Humphrey With's sneaky "Candid Camera" Funt shows Mr. Poor Slob being pushed out of his subway seat, getting salt dumped in his coffee at a cheap diner or falling for the old empty wallet bit.

Doesn't Funt realize that society's "400" can be worth a million laughs, too? Why doesn't he ever trap the Vanderbilts or the Rockefellers when they're slumming it up at "21" or shopping at Bergdorf's?

HOW COME Funt hasn't bugged the reading room at the Union League Club? I'll bet that in their fashion the Union Leaguers can be every bit as funny as a service station grease monkey.

Better yet, Funt occasionally should turn his hidden camera on the TV industry itself. Why doesn't he eavesdrop at a top-level conference of agency and sponsor people who are trying to pick a new TV series? A scene like that could turn out to be the funniest pilot film of the season.

What a howl it would be to have a waiter in Sardi's refuse to serve a network vice president his fourth martini on the grounds that it wasn't good for him!

WHAT'S THE MATTER with Funt? Is he afraid to show us how the other half lives? Why is he so class conscious? In a democracy like ours, the foibles and foolishness of mankind are not confined to the plain working stiffs.

Funt also passed up the show of the year when he failed to have his camera grinding away during one of those hot sessions he had with Arthur Godfrey over who was boss of the "Candid Camera" show on CBS.

It's the old, old story apparently. Those who can dish it out just can't take it.

AND NOW, you happy readers who still are with me, let's step over to the next stage and see whom Ralph Edwards has trapped for his "This Is Your Life" collection.

At least Ralph is not so narrow as brother Funt. Ralph will do a movie star one week and a country doctor with only one stethoscope the next.

But Ralph also has goofed by not honoring some truly great people on our modern scene. If Debbie Reynolds has a life worth Ralph's attention, then what about Dr. Jonas Salk, the man who is putting a stop to polio? There are any number of genuine contributors to world progress in this major league whom Ralph has either overlooked or failed in interesting their relatives to maneuver them onto the show.

In other words, Ralph, like Funt, has passed up the upper strata of our society—the intellectuals, big businessmen, etc.—for what I suppose they call the "common man."

IT ALL may boil down to what the Madison Avenue psychologists call the identification factor. Perhaps Funt and Ralph feel the average TV viewer can't identify with the big shots, and any motivational research man will tell you that if a viewer can't identify with the characters or people on a show, he isn't going to buy the sponsor's product.

So, really, Ralph and Funt are perfect products of what we call mass media, and nothing is more "massy" than TV. "Candid Camera" and "This Is Your Life" don't dare raise their sights too high in the spectrum of our social culture. If they do, they run the risk of the sponsor and network deciding they are "over the heads of the people."

What isn't realized by Funt and Edwards, or the network savants, is that we "massy" viewers can get awfully tired of looking at the "common man," especially when he is played for a sucker.

Two Are Picked Up In City Men's Beating

Two Youngstown men police described as hoodlums were arrested early today in the aftermath of a fracas Sunday in which they beat two East Liverpool men in a Youngstown coffee shop.

Charles Carabba, Struthers racket kingpin, was arrested on suspicion when he turned himself in to the Struthers police department and was taken to Youngstown for a hearing probably today in Municipal Court. No formal charge has been filed.

The Best Investment

On Earth Is

In The Earth

DID YOU KNOW THAT MOST OF ALL CAPITAL INVESTMENT, OR WEALTH, IS IN THE LAND THAT THE DESIRE, FOR MORE LAND FOR EXPANSION, WAS THE CAUSE OF THE TWO LAST GREAT WARS? DID YOU KNOW, THAT IN THE DAYS, WHEN OUR FOREFATHERS WERE GOING WEST IN COVERED WAGONS, MEN AND THEIR FAMILIES WERE SCALPED AND MURDERED IN THEIR DESIRE FOR LAND, THEN THERE WAS NO MONETARY PRICE SET ON LAND, YET THOSE EARLY AMERICANS PAID THE HIGHEST PRICE, IT HAS EVER SOLD FOR, THE PRICE THEN "LIFE FOR LAND", NOW ONLY A FEW DOLLARS—NOT YOUR LIFE, IF THE PRIVILEGE TO OWN IT, SHOULD EVER CEASE, THE PRICE AGAIN WILL BE "YOUR LIFE AND MY LIFE" FOR YOUR LAND AND MY LAND.

Sewage Plant Plan Cleared

The city of New Cumberland has been granted authority by the West Virginia Public Service Commission in Charleston to build and operate sewage disposal facilities.

The PSC granted the authority from the bench at the conclusion of a hearing yesterday. The hearing was on the municipality's petition for authority to furnish sewage disposal service and for approval of sewer and water service rates.

A ruling on rates was withheld by the PSC, pending adoption of a rate ordinance by the City Council.

New Cumberland is under orders from the State Water Resources Commission to take steps to abate pollution. The community plans to build interceptor sewers, a pump station and a primary sewage disposal plant and make improvements in the water system.

It plans to meet the estimated $297,292 cost of the projects by issuing $230,000 worth of revenue bonds and with a federal grant.

Attending the hearing were Mayor Albert Fucy, Atty. Edwin Flowers, town solicitor, Mrs. Harry Newburn, clerk; Jake Baxter, water superintendent, and Councilmen Nick Nardo, Blair Patterson and Welty Vulgamore.

Mayor Fucy said the group also met with the Water Resources Commission and reached agreement on its order that a sewage treatment program be started to abate pollution of the Ohio River.

Film On Japan Shown In Rotary Club's Program

"Enchanting Japan," a color film of some of the more interesting tourist attractions in the "Land of the Rising Sun," was screened at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The film was highlighted with scenes of Tokyo where the 1961 Rotary International convention will be held May 28-June 1.

Malcolm Stenger was program chairman. Guests included Chief Petty Officer James Pattison, local Navy recruiter, and Sgt. Emanuel Bosley, local Army recruiter. George Hargraves, president, presided.

George Van Horne, executive head of the Beaver Local School District, was elected to the Board of Directors to succeed William Black. Black will study at Massachusetts Institute of Technology under a scholarship. Van Horne begins duties on the new board July 1.

Victim Of Plant Blast 'Critical'

One of three seriously burned survivors of a tank explosion at the Columbiana Boiler Co. plant Monday is slightly improved today, but still is listed in "critical" condition at Salem City Hospital.

Richard Lanterman, 24, of Columbiana R. D. 1, who suffered second and third degree burns, showed some improvement overnight, hospital authorities said.

The blast resulted in the death of Carl Bartholomew, 54, of Columbiana R. D. 1 and Owen J. Cook, 61, of Leetonia, and hospitalized eight others.

James Capots, 47, of Columbiana is in "serious" condition and Rudolph Franko, 54, of Leetonia remains in "critical" condition.

Dr. William Kolozsi, county coroner, said today he plans an informal inquiry at the plant.

He said a seven-foot tank of Genitron gas, a propellant, exploded, causing injuries and burns to 17 men and resulting in damage. There were seven empty tanks at the plant. All were delivered full from Baton Rouge, La., Friday.

Hancock's 4-H Agent Resigns For College

Miss Helen Petrakis of Weirton, Hancock County's 4-H Club and farm women's agent, has submitted her resignation to the Agricultural Extension Service of West Virginia University.

She has served in that capacity almost five years and apparently resigned in order to continue work towards her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin.

The County Agricultural Extension Committee was to have acted on her resignation at a meeting Tuesday.

Blow Dealt U.S. Effort To Orbit Man

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—The fiery explosion of an Atlas missile carrying an unmanned Project Mercury capsule has dealt a damaging blow to America's effort to orbit a man this year.

However, it is not expected to delay an attempt to rocket an astronaut into space on a brief up-and-down ride next week.

The Atlas erupted into a blazing trail of fire 40 seconds after it lifted off Tuesday to try to hurl the capsule into a single orbit around the earth.

A rocket escape system sensed trouble with the missile and jerked the spacecraft free three seconds before the explosion. The capsule parachuted safely into the Atlantic Ocean about 350 yards off the cape. A helicopter retrieved the undamaged vehicle.

If the escape system had failed, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration would have called off a plan to send an astronaut aloft on a suborbital space trip next Tuesday.

Board At Library Maps Action In Losses Of Books

The Board of Trustees of the Carnegie Public Library Monday night discussed possible action to curb book losses but decided a more complete picture of the situation is needed.

Miss Sara Heddleston reported on an extensive survey she made of the handling of overdue and missing books in libraries in nearby communities.

Robert Kapp, president, ordered an inventory of the entire collection for the summer months.

The library experienced a 50 per cent increase in lost and missing books during 1960, but this called not a complete picture of the problem.

Borrowers are urged to return long-overdue volumes and those not properly charged before June.

It was generally agreed that an ordinance with appropriate penalties should be sought in Council in order to reduce book theft and vandalism.

Kapp reported the library has again installed an outside return box at the entrance on E. 4th St. It will be available to patrons during hours when the library is closed.

This is to accommodate patrons who find it difficult to get to the library en route to work or arriving after the library closes.

It was reported that the Teen Reading Council organized during National Library Week conducted a poll in 55 English classrooms as to the favored name for the new browsing area. "Jeff Taylor Room" received 592 votes as a memorial to the high school student killed earlier this year in a traffic mishap. Second favorite was "Pony-Twisters Room."

The trustees cited the need for further improvement of the new browsing area. Additional shelving is on order.
